

WELCOME

to CHIEF RESOURCES

“We are delighted to have joined the International Chromium Development Association (ICDA) as Chief Resources. Our decision to become a member of this esteemed association stems from our commitment to fostering collaboration, sharing knowledge, and staying at the forefront of industry advancements in the chromium and chrome ore mining sector. We believe that by being part of the ICDA, we can contribute to the sustainable development of the chromium industry while also benefiting from valuable networking opportunities and access to the latest industry insights and best practices.”

Chief Resources are a multicultural team from Africa that offers an extensive array of mining, beneficiation, and commodity trading solutions. Our holistic approach covers all aspects of the mining process, from initial geological surveys and resource evaluations to ensuring regulatory conformity, mine planning, processing, market analysis, and ultimately product marketing. Our portfolio spans a wide range of commodities but holds a large chromium and chrome ore division. We take pride in our track record and values of successfully helping stakeholders to achieve growth, long-term sustainability and profitability.
